Fulgent Sun International Co., Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as "Fulgent Sun"; TWSE stock code: 9802) today (May 7) announced its consolidated revenue results for April 2025, with sustained strategic deployment since the second half of 2024, Fulgent Sun has entered the 2025 autumn/winter product delivery season with a notable expansion in both production and sales scale. Despite April being a traditional off-season due to seasonal transitions, consolidated revenue reached NT$1.49 billion, marking a 25.66% increase from March's NT$1.19 billion and a 39.11% year-over-year growth compared to NT$1.07 billion in April 2024. This performance indicates a clear rebound from the first quarter's operational trough. Cumulative revenue for the first four months of 2025 totaled NT$5.16 billion, representing a 38.26% year-over-year growth and showcasing robust operational momentum. This positive growth trajectory is expected to continue.

As a global multinational group, Fulgent Sun is committed to leveraging regional advantages through diversified resource integration. The company consistently adheres to its core business strategy of multi-brand, multi-production base, and multi-market deployment. Accordingly, multi-currency allocation is both necessary and expected. Given that the New Taiwan Dollar accounts for only a limited portion of the company's revenue, the recent sharp appreciation of the NT dollar has had minimal impact on the overall financial performance.

In the recently announced 2024 Corporate Governance Evaluation results, Fulgent Sun has once again ranked within the top 6% to 20% among all listed companies for the sixth consecutive year. This achievement reflects the management team's firm belief that while business performance is vital, sound corporate governance is even more fundamental. Despite ongoing uncertainties in the global macroeconomic environment. Nevertheless, the management team remains optimistic about the long-term development prospects of the global sports and leisure industry. In addition to steadily expanding its overseas production bases, the company has also resolved to scale up its Taiwan headquarters. This move aims to further enhance key functional roles and pragmatically lay the foundation for the next wave of growth momentum.
